FRENCH IN ACTION
CONTACT INFORMATION

What is French in Action?

French in action is a program that provides regular sessions of one-to-one conversational French for men and women for whom

French is a second language.

A minimum level of French is required.

The participant must be a member of the library (yearly subscription fees from 14 € to 45 €).

Who will you be speaking with?

French in Action is a fundraising program for the English-language Library in Angers and is run by volunteers of the library.

These volunteers are all native French speakers and are interested in promoting greater understanding of their heritage and culture.

When and where?

The topic chosen for discussion can be on any subject, ranging from everyday life to international politics.

Discussions might include books, current newspaper articles, theater, shopping and other subjects of common interest.

The first meeting between the participant and the volunteer takes place at the library with our activity coordinator. During this meeting, we explain how the program works and answer any question you may have.

This meeting doesn't count towards the 6 hours of conversation but is the starting point of the program.

The participant and volunteer meet at the library, unless otherwise arranged and sign the attendance sheet after each session.

If the meeting room is available, it can be booked for the one-to-one conversation (please check with front desk staff).

Cost: 90 € for 6 hours of conversation

For more information, please contact our activity coordinator at 02 41 24 97 07 or mandy@ellia.org
